Abstract

Royal Police Cadet Academy is an institution of education belonging to Royal Thai Police. It is a school of training and teaching about police to student who want to be a police in future. One important thing is school of preaching for police which is the best for Thai society.

The purpose of cooperative education is to practice multi- English skill, learn to solve the problem by myself and touch to the new experience outside the school.

I was assigned to translating an electronic mail from police training institution foreign. I was also of taking care of some police exchange student from Myanmar. Sometime I had to lead a guest for visiting around the school and landmark.

Sometime If the school has activity. I always attend and help. For example welcoming first year police student activity, camping activity, parachute activity and big cleaning.

I was learning new things; new jobs and I discovered that these are about the point of an internship. It filled me up with various experiences which I didn't realize before that I needed it. I can adapt quickly to the environment and have good relationships with other. For myself I have found many points of weakness but it helped me to improve. I have learned with the problem and find solutions to successful. I had discovered that a good police officer is not easy. This is the first step of my learning.
