Abstract

I am an undergraduate student majoring in English for Business Communication at Sripatum University – Chonburi Campus. The reason that I chose to do my internship at LSGSKYCHEF is because this company is a world class airline food catering and has a lot of branches in the world. One of my main goals is to improve my English skills and working skills. Therefore, I chose to do an internship in the position of production trainee chef and was assigned to work in the chef office. My responsibilities included decorating dishes for first class and business class passengers, preparing good food, communicating with foreign leaders, and managing food timetable. I used English in all processes of working, which made my English improve a lot.

In this internship report I have described my experiences. The internship report contains an overview of the internship and all activities that I performed during my internship. In this report, I have also described and reflected my learning objective and personal goals that I have set before and after my internship.

SPU CHONBURI